INTERNATIONAL ON TURTLE CREEK

Design devotees flocked to the newest design district offering, The International on Turtle Creek, as it opened its new doors. The 158,000 square-foot space is the latest marvel from Jim Lake Companies and the architectural firm Good, Fulton and Farrell. Todd Events set the scene using different shades of plum. Guests nibbled on hors d'oeuvres from Margaux and sipped Paloma cocktails made by Sauza tequila, while browsing the design rooms of tenants such as Carlin and Company, Allan Knight and Associates and J.H Lighting. —REGAN CUMMING
